2 Cents Worth

This week, the City Council holds its first workshop to designate priorities for the Small Boat Harbor Improvement Project. The Seldovia Gazette asked boat owners:

What should be the first priority of the harbor renovation project?

"It needs more transient parking. Day after day there are boats coming in, trying to park and having to be run off."

Matt Gallien

"The harbor channel needs to be redredged. It's a safety issue. If there was an emergency of some kind, these bigger boats couldn't get out because of the shallow waters."

Fritz Graese

"Repair of the main float from the ramp down to the end of the A Line. It looks like it's sinking on the shore side."

Cliff Scheel

"A ramp that would make it easier to get up and down at the minus tides."

Carolyn Strand
