Letters to the Editor

Thanks for your kindness . . .

Dear friends,

We can't express how grateful we are for the many cards, gifts, meals and other acts of kindness that

HEA power conditioning

To the Editors:

With regard to the coverage of the HEA "luncheon" this past week, your reporter omitted a suggestion that HEA consider a power conditioning system on the supply lines to Seldovia. Rather greeted us when we brought home baby Noel. We are privileged to have such a wonderful community and great friends around us. Noel is doing wonderful. She is a wonderful blessing of God's joy to us. You are all welcome to stop in and hold her, I'm charging 25 cents each.

Sincerely,
Jonathan, Melanie, Abigail, Levi and Noel Hoard

than have all of the users provide individual surge and brown-out protection to their circuits, it would seem to make more sense for the power supplier to install a community wide "fail soft" or managed failure system.

The HEA reps advised they would examine that alternative and provide a written reply.

Sincerely,
Mike Webber
