Merry Christmas & Happy New Year

New Year, New Seasons

The 2008 sports year is in progress. The basketball teams are beginning season play on January 11th, in an away game against the Ninilchik Wolverines. The junior high managed to scrounge up enough girls to form a volleyball team. This is a wonderful thing, especially since there has not been one for over two years.

The basketball teams have worked diligently over Christmas Break in order to prepare for this weekend's games. After the games against the Seldovia Alumni, the teams polished up a few things and have been working on some "sneak" plays. The boys' team has slowly dwindled from nine players down to a final seven. Even then it was not for sure if they would be traveling with the girls this weekend due to making up running. This however did not stop the boys, the players that had numerous lines stepped up and ran; while others who didn't have running also stepped up and ran next to them. This shows just how much the word team means to these boys. The most exciting thing about this weekend is that the first season games are against none other than Seldovia's rival Ninilchik Wolverines. These are going to be some fun games to watch. But, before the teams head off to Ninilchik they have a planned scrimmage against Homer High School's junior varsity on Thursday.

Volleyball is once again sweeping Susan B. English, but at a different level. The junior high Sea Otter girls have come together and are preparing to start practice on Thursday, after the high school heads off for games. There are a total of seven girls playing on the team, with two others practicing with the team before leaving for vacation. Competitive play for junior high does not begin until February, so they have plenty of practice time before going against other teams.
